#1 Member Support on YESAB Projects Under Review

The WTAY office recently contacted one of its members regarding their concern over a YESAB project under review. The project was scheduled to take place in an area that the member used on a regular basis and he was very concerned about the exploration project being proposed. After learning more about the member's concerns, WTAY submitted an email to YESAB in support of the member and agreeing with the issues he had voiced.

WTAY would like all of its members to know that if you have a concern about a project under review with YESAB, or if a project could negatively impact the environment, or your business, please notify the office. We'll look at the project in question and lend our support if warranted.

#2 Adventure Biking: A Growing Trend

If you have some interest in adventure biking, you can read this article from a recent ATTA email post.
